O. Child ies Here

Patricia Clair, five year-old [illegible] family Sunday [illegible] she ran into the side of a [illegible] station wagon on Beach [illegible], in front of Camp [illegible] with her mother, Mrs. James [illegible].

Investigating officers, Chief Police Alcide Saucier and [illegible]man Arthur Garcia, said the child suffered a fractured skull and brain concussion after she darted through an [illegible]ing in the concrete seawall [illegible] the side of the car driven [illegible] Miss Noelie Gauder, 17, New [illegible] and Waveland, and was [illegible] to the pavement.

The child died shortly after [illegible] was admitted to King's Daughters Hospital.

No charges were preferred [illegible] Miss Gauder, whose [illegible] was apparently driv[illegible] within the legal speed limit. They report that no marks [illegible] scratches could be found on [illegible] station wagon except in the [illegible] of the front door handle, [illegible] eight feet from the front [illegible] of the radiator. This [illegible], they said, that the child [illegible] came in contact with the [illegible] after it had passed the gap [illegible] the seawall through which the [illegible].

The policemen also said, "A [illegible] of the road failed to show [illegible] tell-tale 'skid marks' which [illegible] invariably made by a sudden-[illegible] braked speeding car."

The car came to a halt about [illegible] feet from the point of the [illegible] child's contact. "This", [illegible] pointed out, "indicates that [illegible] car was not moving at an [illegible]gal rate of speed."

The daughter of William G. [illegible] and Mrs. Olive Gauder of [illegible] Orleans, Miss Gauder was [illegible] suffering from severe [illegible]ional shock at the home of [illegible].

[illegible] services for the Clair [illegible] were held Monday in New [illegible].

Two Hospitalized After Three Auto Accidents

Two persons were injured [illegible] over $2200 in property da[illegible] as results of three auto[illegible] accidents Sunday in the [illegible] Waveland area.

David Leon Burns, New Or[illegible], and Mrs. Gladys Finn, [illegible] Harbor, were injured [illegible] their automobiles were in[illegible] in a head-on collision [illegible] Beach Blvd., about 300 feet [illegible] of Nicholson Ave., about [illegible] p.m.

Mrs. Finn, suffering from [illegible] and bruises, was taken to [illegible] Daughters Hospital for [illegible] and treatment.

Burns was taken first to [illegible] Daughters Hospital for [illegible] of severe lacerations of the forehead, and was later transferred to Memorial Hospital in Gulfport for observation and further treatment.

Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner investigated the accidents and estimated damages at about $300 to Burns' 1956 Volks-wagon and $400 to Mrs. Finn's 1956 Pontiac.

No charges were made in the accident.

US Highway 90 was the scene of two accidents happening within minutes of each other at shortly after 5:00 p.m. Sunday.

A Gulfport colored funeral home director, J. T. Hall, was charged with reckless drivin when his 1951 Buick struck the rear of a 1950 Plymouth driven by Ernest Touard, New Orleans.

Deputy sheriff Carl Garcia investigated the accident which happened near Kiln Road on US 90.

Deputy Garcia reported that Hall's automobile ran into the rear of Touard's car when the Touard car slowed for traffic ahead.

Neither driver was injured. The property damage was estimated at $400 to Hall's automobile and $100 to Touard's car.

There were no personal injuries in the third accident which occurred about 5:00 P.M. Investigating officers Deputy Garcia and [illegible] Highway Patrolman [illegible] Guest said the accident [illegible] belonging to Ralph [illegible] and Claude [illegible], both of Bay St. Louis, were involved in an accident at the intersection of US 90 and Nicholson Avenue.

The officers said that [illegible], driving a 1957 [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] highway.

Damages were estimated at about $[illegible] to the [illegible] car and $[illegible] to the pickup truck.

Dufour Is Tentatively Approved; Bills And Salaries To Be Paid

The one and one half month old dispute between Mayor Garfield Ladner and three aldermen (Marvin Pearson, Alvin Weingartner and Cornelius Heckley) resulting from the appointment by the Mayor of C. O. Dufour to the post of Waveland's City Secretary was settled last night, at least temporarily.

Only two aldermen, Heckley and Tony Bourgeois, members of the four-man board, attended last night's meeting.

Dufour was named on motion of Alderman Bourgeois "to approve Mayor Garfield Ladner's appointment of C. O. Dufour as Secretary of the Town of Waveland."

Alderman Heckley, however, [illegible] C. O. Dufour [illegible] tary so that the bills and [illegible] be paid and the business of the town of Waveland can be carried on."

Dairy Dream Arceneaux's Burglarized

Two local business establishments were entered during the past week with $65. taken from one and nothing reported missing from the other.

The Dairy Dream located at the foot of the Bay bridge was burglarized of about $50 in change sometime between 11:00 P.M. Friday and 5:00 A.M. Saturday.

Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner, Jr. who investigated the burglary said that entrance was probably gained through a rear door of the ice cream and sandwich shop. The lock of the door was broken in the attempt to enter the shop.

The burglary was discovered early Saturday morning by a bread deliveryman who notified Wilson Waters, owner of the shop, who reported the burglary to the Sheriff.

The shop was entered once before March 3 when $15. was taken. A sixteen year-old escapee of an Oklahoma City jail was apprehended following the robbery of an establishment in Henderson Point the same night and when being interrogated by Pass Christian police and Sheriff Ladner, admitted the Dairy Dream burglary.

Sheriff Ladner reported that no arrests have been made, but the burglary is under investigation by his office.

The top of a window next to the railroad was broken to provide entrance in a burglary attempt at Arceneaux's [illegible] Service station sometime late Monday or early Tuesday.

E. J. Arceneaux, owner of the service station, said that nothing was missing, but the person or persons who entered the station made a thorough search of the office probably for money.

"We don't keep any cash at the station, as we have been burglarized several times," said Arceneaux. "At the close of each day, we deposit our receipts."

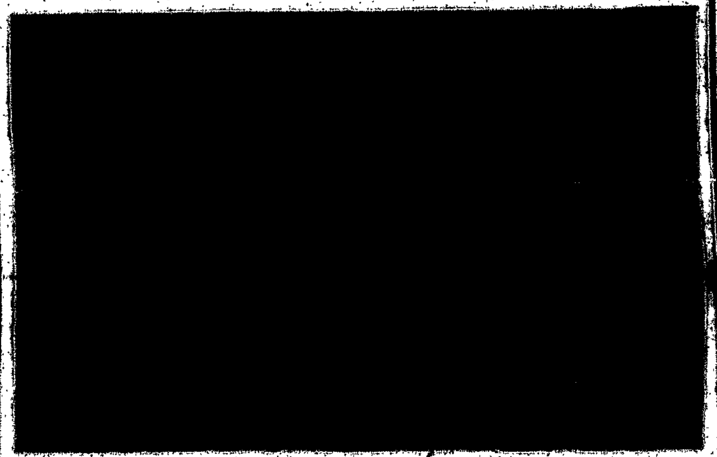
Sheriff Ladner reported that fingerprints were lifted at the station and the burglary is under investigation.

"Whoever entered Arceneaux's carefully went through all the receipts, papers, books and check books and then carefully stacked them in a pile with nothing disturbed about," Sheriff Ladner reported.

Graduation Exercises Scheduled At SJA

Commencement exercises will be held in Memorial Hall at St. Joseph's Academy Tuesday, May 28 at 8:00 P.M.

Flo Morris, New Orleans, is valedictorian of the graduating class, having received the greatest number of quality points in four years high school work at the Academy.



ELMA AND FLO MORRIS, twins from New Orleans, are salutatorian and valedictorian at St. Joseph's Academy this year.

Olivia Morris, Flo's twin sister, is salutatorian.

The Rev. Raphael Tome, M.S.S.T., Pontiague, will deliver the principal address of the evening.

A chorus, comprised of the entire high school student body, will sing at the commencement, accompanied by the St. Stanislaus band.

The Rt. Rev. Michael J. McCarthy will confer the honors of graduation and present diplomas to the graduates.

Members of the graduating class who are pictured on page 9 of this issue are J. Blanchard, H. Genin, A. Villeloboa, P. Bourgeois, E. C. Carias, T. Giani, K. Gabell, C. Hagran, J. LaPagrenie, B. Day School Registration

The Rev. Charles R. Johnson, headmaster of Christ Episcopal Day School, announced that registration for the 1957-58 session will be held at the school 912 S. Beach, May 27-29 from 8:00 A.M. until 4:00 P.M.

He urged registration be made early to insure entrance, as classes at the Day School are limited to 25 students in each class, and full classes are anticipated at this time in all eight grades of the school.

The school was recently awarded a Class AA rating by the Miss. Accrediting Commission, one of the few in the state having this coveted rating.

Bennett Gets Contract To Rebuild Pier

Mrs. Theo Tudury, chairman of the Parks and Playgrounds Commission, announced today that the contract for the reconstruction of the Municipal pier, destroyed in 1956 by the high winds and tides of Hurricane Brenda, has been awarded to F.O. Bennett.

Bennett's bid of $6800 was accepted by the commission at a joint meeting with the City Commission Council and City Attorney Dan M. Russell Monday night.

Mrs. Tudury said that a contract will be awarded next Monday night for the furnishing and delivery of pilings for the pier.

As soon as the pilings are delivered to the site of the pier, re-construction will begin immediately.

Mrs. Tudury said that she had had a number of inquiries about why the reconstruction of the pier has been delayed so long and said, "We would have reconstructed the pier immediately after its destruction had we had the necessary funds. The City Council, when it was possible, transferred funds from another department to our commission [illegible] as the monies we needed for rebuilding the pier."

The pier will be completed in five or six weeks depending on the weather.

Honor Bishop Brunini At Reception Sunday

The Most Rev. Joseph Bernard Brunini, D.D., first Auxiliary Bishop of the diocese of Natchez-Jackson was greeted by over 1000 members of Our Lady of the Gulf Parish at a reception in his honor at St. Joseph's Memorial Hall, Sunday, May 19.

Bishop Brunini was escorted through a doorway of the hall by Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus. Over the doorway hung a beautiful hand-painted replica of Bishop Brunini's coat of arms which was painted by Mrs. Gertrude Foley Bourke.

The Sisters of St. Joseph decorated the hall for the occasion and used a background of [illegible], [illegible] in the Bay area.

Stanislaus Concert Band Honors Brother Roland

St. Stanislaus College's senior concert band, under the direction of Brother [illegible], presented its Silver Anniversary Concert Thursday, May 16, at St. Joseph's Memorial Hall. Dedicated to Brother Roland, founder of St. Stanislaus Band, the Silver Jubilee Concert was attended by a large group.

Four guest conductors were invited to participate in the concert and were Marcel Leblanc, Bay High School; Joe Ellis, Pearl River Junior College; C. F. Rooney, Gulfport High School; and Howard Lane, Long Beach and Pass Christian.

Highlighting the program was the performance of two numbers which the band played at the State Band Contest in Jackson, winning superior ratings. [illegible] "Comrades For Freedom" and "Princess of India" opened the program.

The saxophone quartet presented its superior rated performance of the [illegible] and James Raymond, the clarinet solo which also rated superior at the State contest.

On the lighter side, the band presented several novelty numbers, one of which, "Let's All Have Fun," drew much response.

Heart of Your Community

The heart of every modern community is communications; a way to bring people together to do things—for need or pleasure. And what better, quicker or more economical way is there to do this than by telephone?

Hundreds of calls bringing people together go through even the smallest exchange daily—thousands of them through the larger exchanges. Teen-aged Sue calls Marge to report on last night's dance; Mother phones the grocer to increase her order; or Dad phones to make sure his golf foursome is set for tomorrow.

No doubt about it—having telephones helps in many ways to make life easier, more pleasant for you, and your friends. It's dependable personal service at your fingertips 24 hours a day . . . a big buy in happiness and peace of mind.

Dear Mr. Rolfsted:

I am sure the success of the January March of Dimes appeal, as reflected in the enclosed news release, will be pleasing to you. Never have I witnessed more enthusiastic effort by volunteers, and the coverage through the press, radio and television was incredible.

As one who has seen so much good accomplished through our great volunteer health movement, it is indeed encouraging to witness the continued support and participation in the annual March of Dimes.

Through the press the fund needs were presented with unusual clarity and force. I thank you for the generous support given to this cause by your good newspaper.

Sincerely yours,
Felix J. Underwood, M.D.
State Chairman

Dear Madam:

Mr. Frank Griffin, Columbia, South Carolina, Editor of the Camellia, has furnished us with a clipping from your paper which contains a report on the recent camellia show staged by the Waveland Garden Club. Under a photograph of Mrs. Frances M. Wright, President of the Club, and Dr. and Mrs. Walter C. Hess, reference is made to "the American Camellia Society's 'All American' Camellia, the beautiful bright yellow Cinderella."

There are two glaring errors in that short statement, one of which is likely to bring about criticism of the American Camellia Society and should be corrected to the full extent of your responsibilities as Editor.

There is absolutely no connection between the American Camellia Society and All-American Camellia Selections, Inc., and Cinderella is no more a selection of this Society than it is a selection of the Elks.

The American Camellia Society is a nonprofit organization of camellia growers in this country and abroad. The purposes of the Society are to promote interest in the genus Camellia, encourage scientific research in its culture, standardization of varietal names, registration of new varieties (Cinderella is not [illegible]

[illegible] grown in the United States." It would not be [illegible] All-American Camellia Selections [illegible]

To provide for the [illegible] of new varieties [illegible] over a three-year period by qualified judges. At the conclusion of these [illegible] the consensus and comments of the judges were to be submitted to a "National Camellia Jury" for consideration and selection of the outstanding performer which would be offered as the first All-American Camellia Selection.

The first selection, Cinderella, is reported [illegible] a notoriously poor performer in the South. It is significant that this percentage was not mentioned in the advertisements of Cinderella sent out by All-American, although these ads, or at least the one before me, called Cinderella "A Dream Come True" in large letters, and stated that it was the choice of a jury composed of outstanding camellia hobbyists.

Hundreds of camellia lovers throughout the South, believing that Cinderella was all that All-America claimed it to be—garden tested and sure to perform well anywhere camellias may be grown in the United States—bought plants at rather high prices. To state that the majority of these purchasers were disillusioned and bitterly disappointed when their "dream plants" came into flower, would be a gross understatement. A flood of criticism of All-American and its first selection flowed over the South. This criticism has become intensified in recent months when it was learned that in spite of the implication that the plants would be tested over a three-year period in each and every test garden, plants sent to one test garden bloomed only once during the three-year period, and another test garden in the South was not furnished with a single [illegible]

Q. Can you tell [illegible] the "white slave act" [illegible]

A. The term "White Slave Act" is a popular term applied to the Mann Act passed by Congress in 1910. At the time of passage the words "white slavery" were used by social agencies to describe women held in condition of compulsory prostitution which led to the passage of the act.

Q. Can you tell me how the Smithsonian Institution acquired its name?

A. It was named after its founder, James Smithson, an Englishman, who bequeathed his fortune in 1826 to the United States to found in Washington an institution for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge among men." It now occupies several buildings in Washington and in 1955 Congress authorized $36 million for a new Smithsonian Museum of History and Technology. The Smithsonian now has many branches including: The National Museum, the National Gallery of Art, the National Collection of Fine Arts, the Freer Gallery of Art, The International Exchange Service, The Bureau of American Ethnology, The National Zoological Park, the Astrophysical Observatory, The Division of Radiation and Organisms, the National Air Museum and the Canal Zone Biological Area. It also maintains a 900,000 volume library.

Statement of Appreciation

We wish to thank all of our supporters in the election last Tuesday, and throughout the campaign who worked so hard in our behalf.

We also wish to extend our appreciation to the people for their cordial welcome given us during our campaign. To those who, for some reason or other, could not support our candidacy, we hold no malice or ill feelings. To the re-elected City Council, we extend our sincere congratulations and offer them our best wishes for a progressive and successful administration.

Accepting God's will through the vote of the people, we again humbly thank everyone for their support.

The Mayor passed out to Aldermen [illegible]

[illegible]

Waveland, however, did not attend the meeting, nor did Fontaine.

Herlihy, at last night's meeting, [illegible] absence was due to a "virus" illness. He also stated that Fontaine was occupied with extra duties with the Southern Bell Telephone Company resulting from the recent dial system changeover.

Alderman Herlihy then proposed that the Mayor make Dufour's appointment on a temporary basis, as he had agreed to do some weeks earlier.

Mayor Ladner refused on grounds that the City Attorney, Lucien Gex, had given the opinion that the city charter made no provision in law for a temporary appointment. Then Mayor added that if such a temporary appointment were made [illegible] would be highly [illegible] and might result in [illegible]. He, therefore, declined to do so.

Alderman Bourgeois made a motion that Dufour's appointment be made on a permanent basis. Alderman Herlihy refused to second it and it failed.

Bourgeois made a second motion and Herlihy, as stated above, seconded it "to approve C. O. Dufour as temporary secretary."

It was put to a vote and carried by the votes of both aldermen.

Dufour then took his seat as Secretary, and the minutes of the meetings of March, April and May were read by him. Bourgeois moved for their acceptance but Herlihy refused to second and the motions failed.

Tempers flared hotly at one point during approval of the city's bills.

No disagreement occurred until Alderman Herlihy refused to second the motion approving Mayor Ladner's salary for $120.00 as Supervisor of the Waveland Water and Gas System.

Alderman Herlihy gave as his reason that he believed the salary to be an illegal one, stating that he had written to the Attorney General's office asking for an opinion in the matter as follows: "Is it legal for the Mayor to hold the position as Manager of the town's water and gas system at a separate salary other than the Mayor's and sign his own warrant?"

Herlihy quoted the Attorney General's reply as follows: "I know of no statute that authorizes the mayor of a town to manage a public utility of a town on a salary distinct from that of Mayor. See Sect. [illegible] Miss. Code of 1942."

The Mayor then directed Dufour to read aloud the minutes of a Waveland Board meeting held in 1956 [illegible] per month.

Town Hall. Could I be appointed as Manager of the Gas and Water System on a full time basis of 5 1/2 days per week at an additional salary of $120.00 per month.

Would you kindly advise me of any law under which I could accept this appointment legally?

Thanking you for an early reply, I am,

Sincerely yours,
Garfield Ladner,
Mayor – Town of Waveland

"Honorable Garfield Ladner,
Mayor – Town of Waveland
Waveland, Mississippi.

Dear Mr. Ladner:

Reply is made to your letter of March 8th, in which you ask opinion as to whether or not you as Mayor could be appointed as manager of the Gas and Water System on a full time basis at an additional salary.

It is my opinion that the Mayor of a municipality cannot be appointed to an additional position. However, if the Board of Aldermen desired to prescribe the various duties of the Mayor, and included in such duties the management of the Gas and Water System, and paid a salary to the Mayor commensurate with such duties, and if the Mayor was able to fully perform all of the duties of such office and all of the duties designated by the Board of Aldermen, it is my opinion that such assignment of duties and [illegible] that all salaries be approved except that of the Mayor's salary as Manager of the Water and Gas System.

Alderman Bourgeois refused to second it stating that he would approve no bills at all unless the Mayor's salary were fully approved.

Herlihy then stated that he [illegible] illegal.

He also stated that he has consulted a private attorney with a view to contesting the town's payment of it and also the legality of Dufour's permanent appointment without the approval of the Board.

Toward the end of the meeting Mayor Ladner appeared to become ill and Alderman Herlihy recommended at once that any

He had suffered no heart attack, she said, nor had he been taken to a hospital. His ailment consisted of a [illegible] fever and his physician had ordered him to bed for a few days.

Mayor Ladner was reported by his family to be feeling better this morning.

To The People of The City of Bay St. Louis:

I first want to thank you for the fine reception given me during my campaign for the office of Mayor.

I wish to also state that I will be a candidate for this office next time.

To those who voted for me or helped me in any way, I do hereby express my deep appreciation

KAREN KERGOSIEN HONORED AT TWO PRE-NUPTIAL PARTIES SATURDAY

Bride-elect Karen Kergosien was honored at two of a series of pre-nuptial parties planned in her honor last Saturday and Sunday.

Saturday, Mrs. E. N. Spence and Mrs. Norman L. Carter entertained in Miss Kergosien's honor with a miscellaneous shower at the spacious Carter home on South Beach Blvd.

Receiving with the hostesses, Miss Kergosien selected a navy linen frock of beige linen worn with matching accessories. She was presented a corsage of yellow gladioli blossoms. Her mother, Mrs. Horace Kergosien, wore a midnight blue model trimmed in white, and a corsage of white gladioli, while the bridegroom-elect's mother, Mrs. P. J. Trouard wore mint green cotton with a white corsage.

In the dining room of the home, the table was covered with an imported cloth of white lace and linen. A white and green bridal motif was carried out in all decorations with a large centerpiece of white gladioli and Queen Anne's lace gracing the table. A silver punch bowl was placed at one end, and silver trays of party refreshments completed the appointments.

About forty guests gifted Miss Kergosien with many lovely and useful gifts.

The Louise Guichene on North Beach was the scene of a linen shower in Miss Kergosien's honor Sunday afternoon. Co-hostesses were Mesdames Donald Collier of Hattiesburg, Charles A. Roesch, Jr., and Roger Bek.

The mantel in the living room held a lovely arrangement of pink gladioli to form a background for the pink loveseat upon which the pretty honoree was seated to open her gifts.

Karen wore a sand and white printed silk cotton with a corsage of yellow carnations. Mrs. Kergosien chose a powder blue linen afternoon model, and Mrs. Trouard a green and white cotton print. They wore white carnation corsages presented them by the hostesses.

White summer blossoms adorned the reception rooms of the home. The dining room table held a flaming chafing dish of Cherries Jubilee and silver serving dishes.

The hostesses presented Karen with a lovely madeira banquet cloth with matching napkins.

In "The Silent World," [illegible] sharks. They explore [illegible] ships. They battle the dread depths [illegible] which [illegible] them [illegible] out of their life-giving [illegible]

[illegible] the "Calypso" plunge into the lower depths [illegible] is a scene from Columbia Pictures' exciting true story, "The Silent World," in color by Technicolor at the Star Theatre.

[illegible] air masks and succumb to the deadly oblivion of the deep. They tame a huge grouper fish, with the aid of meat scraps, so that he follows them around like a subterranean spaniel, and explore the wondrous, ever-changing world of the undersea.

Above water, too, the Calypso's alert cameramen have captured astonishing scenes. In one fantastic scene, thousands of dolphins break the ocean's surface to leap with seeming joy high into the air, and race the ship as it speeds over the sea.

Tragedy strikes when a school of sperm whales approaches the Calypso, and a baby whale is mortally hurt by a propeller; it must be shot. The carcass is attacked by sharks; Calypso crew members work frenziedly to haul the hated sharks on deck and kill them. These and other episodes, vividly photographed, are said to leave filmgoers gasping.

"Sea-sleds," amazing deep-sea scooters that glide through the deep at a speed of four knots, are also shown and one of them figures in an amazing contest. One of Cousteau's divers, gripping a scooter, races another diver who rides a giant green sea turtle. The diver's weight slows down the turtle, and the scooter wins.

Also shown in "The Silent World" is the exploration of a sunken cargo ship, whose decks, cargo and equipment have been covered by sea growth, with fish gliding about through its corridors.

MUCH is made of the alleged fact that Oscar winners are unknown until the slip bearing their names is read from the podium . . . This may be true, but it seems peculiar that year after year the so-called "guesses" by everyone in Hollywood from a janitor to the top producers are invariably right . . . How can they "guess", for instance, that "Around the World in 80 Days" will win the best pic award while George Stevens will be named the best director for "Giant"? Neither of these Oscars was a surprise to anyone in the movie audience or the televiewers who had read all predictions.

Katharine Hepburn deserved the Oscar, but Katie is not well liked by her co-workers so she lost out in an emotional binge over Ingrid Bergman who made her first American movie in her first years of self-imposed exile . . . Kirk Douglas, too, deserved it if voting was fair, but Yul Brynner won on the basis of a role he created on Broadway and could play it in his sleep. The same thing happened some years ago with Shirley Booth . . . She created a role on Broadway, played it a thousand or more times, made her first movie based on the same play and promptly won the Oscar for "best actress." Just [illegible] unknown actor wins an Oscar [illegible] in a movie [illegible] as an original TV play . . . Has Hollywood no originality left?

THESE SPEC

Picnics Are Old-Fashioned, But They're Here To [illegible]

"...Old Gray Mare Ain't What She Used To Be" . . .

BUT THE PICNIC STILL IS

By [illegible]

...d flannel petticoats, long black stockings and high laced shoes ... relics of the dim and distant past. As are mustache cups, taffy ... and old gray mares.

... the picnic. Meaning a relic of this same era is still with us. ... Though "the old gray mare ain't what she used to be," ... still is.

... are as popular today as they were in the dim and distant ... And today's youngsters have as much fun on a picnic as did ... grandparents. So if it's fun you want for you and ... family this summer, take a cue from grandma. Choose her ... form of recreation. Plan a picnic.

... all picnic discussions this one too leads to food and what to ... along.

What to Take

... member the salt and pack in ... pepper and the sugar and the ... And of course, the coffee ... catsup and mustard, pickles, ... and onions are other musts. ... paper plates, cups and napkins, ... cutlery.

... you've ever gone picnicking ... a can opener or a sharp ... or matches you have ac... real appreciation for these ... day inventions. Too, take ... a towel, washcloth and ...

... to menu possibilities there's ... denying that food such as this ... taste next to heaven when it's ... under the deep blue sky: ... barbecued ribs, wild rice mold, ... tossed salad, onion French ... fruit and chocolate brownies.

Easy Menu

... are a wonderful choice for ... picnic. And the job of preparing ... is easy enough. To simplify ... preparation mix the barbecue ... early in the day. Start the ... early so it will burn down to ... glowing coals. Then place the ... over the coals as far from ... source of heat as possible. ... need slow cooking. Allow no ... than 45 minutes and baste ... with barbecue sauce each time ... are turned.

Barbecue Sauce

... medium onion, minced
... cup salad oil
... cup catsup
¾ cup water
½ cup lemon juice
3 tablespoons brown sugar
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
2 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper

Saute onion in hot oil until soft and transparent. Add remaining ingredients. Simmer 15 minutes.

For transporting ribs to a distant picnic spot place in a cooler with plenty of ice. Barbecue sauce can be placed in a fruit jar.

Add Wild Rice

For a backyard picnic whisk this wild rice mold from the oven to the picnic table just as the ribs are roasted to that perfect shade of mahogany doneness. However, if the picnic is away from home take the piping hot mold from the oven and immediately cover the top with aluminum foil. Wrap in several thicknesses of newspaper. When you arrive at the picnic spot remove the newspaper covering but not the foil. Place mold on rear of grill to keep warm.

Wild Rice Mold

2 cups wild rice
1½ quarts water
3 teaspoons salt
1 small onion, chopped
1 pound fresh mushrooms, sliced
½ cup butter
¾ cup hot chicken broth

Add rice to boiling salted water. Cover and boil rapidly until rice is tender and all moisture has been absorbed, about 40 to 45 minutes. Meanwhile saute onion and mushrooms in butter. Add to hot rice together with chicken broth. Pack into a 6½ cup mold and bake in a 350 degree F. oven for 30 minutes. Yield: 8 servings.

To prepare the onion French bread cut the loaf in half lengthwise. Spread with butter, then sprinkle with finely chopped green onions. Wrap bread in a double thickness of aluminum foil and place on back of grill where it is not too hot, until bread is heated through.

CAPTURE PICNIC SCENES

Picture possibilities on a picnic are infinite. And pictures in color and with depth—3-D, or [illegible] as they have become known—are just that much better to recall happy picnic occasions.

Another Picnic Choice

Another picnic menu that has plenty of appetite appeal is this: Shish kebabs, noodle casserole, hard rolls, cabbage salad and apple pie.

The lamb and vegetables are marinated in the kitchen. And likewise the noodle and cheese casserole is cooked indoors.

But the shish kebabs are broiled outside over glowing coals.

Shish Kebabs

½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon sugar
Dash of pepper
¼ teaspoon paprika
[illegible] lemon juice
[illegible]
[illegible] and cut into [illegible]
8 [illegible] onions, cut [illegible]
8 [illegible] tomatoes, cut into [illegible]

Combine salt, sugar, pepper, paprika, [illegible] and [illegible]. [illegible] about 1 hour. [illegible] Alternate lamb, onion and [illegible] on skewers. Grill over glowing coals from 25 to 30 minutes, turning as necessary. Baste with marinade during broiling. Yield: 8 servings.

This noodle casserole will serve 6 to 8 people. And like the wild rice mold it can be kept hot on the rear of the grill, if need be.

Noodle Casserole

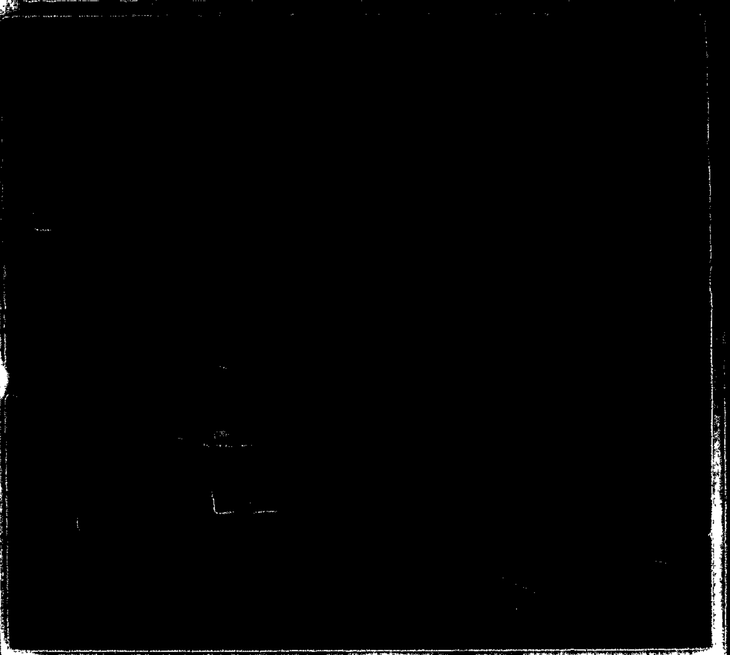
1 medium onion, chopped fine
2 tablespoons shortening
1 can (No. 2 size) tomatoes
1 can (8 ounce size) tomato sauce
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
Dash of garlic salt
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 package (8 ounce size) noodles
¾ pound sliced American cheese
½ cup grated parmesan cheese

Saute onion in hot fat. Add tomatoes and tomato sauce and seasonings. Cover and simmer slowly about 45 minutes. Cook noodles in boiling salted water until tender. Drain and rinse with hot water. In greased casserole alternate layers of noodles, cheese and sauce. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes or until cheese melts.

There are probably a million versions of the origin of the American expression, "O.K." Haitians insist this is the most authentic: When U. S. servicemen first began visiting Caribbean ports they ran across Aux Cayes, a port on Haiti's southern peninsula. The town was known for its superb rum, so anything connected with Aux Cayes became O. K.

* * *

[illegible]



[illegible]

That's the cry the minute the weather turns warm. It isn't always possible, though, for parents to drop everything to prepare a picnic for the children.

One way is to let the youngsters "do it themselves." Leading child psychologists have recently been giving strong endorsement to the trend which finds children imitating their elders in various household chores. For the young ones it's a labor of love!

Here's how you can go about organizing a backyard picnic:

1. Have a good supply of paper plates and cups on hand since they save mother's china and eliminate cleaning up.
2. Provide the children with a [illegible] small table and [illegible] low stools.
3. Take a quick poll to determine what kind of sandwiches they want to eat. Set out the bread, filling, and spreads, and let the kids go to work.
4. A store-bought cake and milk will round out the picnic fare.
5. When the food is prepared, suggest that the kids ask friends to come and share their treat. They'll be especially proud because they've had a hand in preparing it.
6. Take advantage of the chance to stress neatness by insisting the children dispose of their paper plates and cups.

Net result: happy children, who will know how to plan their own picnics in the future.

[illegible] popcorn [illegible] in an open [illegible] over [illegible] of good [illegible] all in your [illegible] the usual way.

Season to Taste

For a festive, holiday air, [illegible] this [illegible] standard cooking [illegible] provide new taste [illegible]. Butter and salt the popped corn, then toss it with a [illegible] barbecue or [illegible] sauce or French dressing. If you prefer, use garlic salt, onion [illegible], chili powder, grated cheese, broken nut meats—or pass [illegible] with individual servings of [illegible] chips for dipping each grain. If you're holding [illegible] try [illegible] some of the hot [illegible] popped corn — it's good! Of course nothing makes a bigger hit with the younger picnic fans than popcorn balls of all shapes and sizes—different flavors, too. You can stir up plenty of enthusiasm simply by mixing peanut butter or chocolate mint candy into the melted butter before pouring it over the corn.
